Films are cultural artifacts created by specific cultures. They reflect those cultures, and, in turn, affect them. Film is considered to be an important art form, a source of popular entertainment, and a powerful medium for educating—or indoctrinating—citizens. The visual basis of film gives it a universal power of communication. Some films have become popular worldwide attractions through the use of dubbing or subtitles to translate the dialog into other languages. The individual images that make up a film are called frames. In the projection of traditional celluloid films, a rotating shutter causes intervals of darkness as each frame, in turn, is moved into position to be projected, but the viewer does not notice the interruptions because of an effect known as persistence of vision, whereby the eye retains a visual image for a fraction of a second after its source disappears. The perception of motion is partly due to a psychological effect called the phi phenomenon.

The Association of Independent Commercial Producers AICP released a set of guidelines and work place practices in early-May 2020 as restrictions began to lift across the U.S. This set included specific guidelines for all departments and worksites involved in productions.<sup>166167</sup> An industry task force of studios and unions submitted a report on June 1, 2020, with various recommendations on health and safety guidelines for cast and crew of productions. These guidelines include regular testing, wearing face coverings at all times when not filming, actors practicing social distancing whenever possible, reducing or modifying scenes involving close contact, and recommending that casting be performed via videoconferencing or self-recorded video rather than in-person.<sup>168169</sup>

By March 12, Cinemark, AMC and National CineMedia stocks had all fallen by over 35% since the beginning of the month.<sup>181</sup> Cineworld, the world's second-largest cinema chain, warned on March 12, when multiple films pushed back their releases, that extended disruption and continuing falling stock could cause the company to collapse.<sup>180</sup><sup>182</sup> In August 2020, California announced a new color-coded tier system that would allow restrictions to be lifted in specific counties based on health metrics, effective August 31.<sup>183</sup><sup>184</sup> Cinemas would be allowed to operate at limited capacity if a county is in the red Substantial tier or better. This would scale from at 25%<sup>100</sup> patrons whichever is smaller in red counties, to 50%<sup>200</sup> patrons in orange Moderate counties, and 50% with no hard maximum in counties under the lowest yellow Minimal tier. The majority of the state was still in the purple Widespread tier at the onset of the system, where cinemas remained closed. These health orders can still be superseded with stricter rules by local officials.<sup>185</sup>
